

Bob Doppelt is Director of Resource Innovations and The Climate Leadership Initiative, which are sustainability and global climate change research and technical assistance programs in the Institute for a Sustainable Environment at the University of Oregon. He is also a courtesy Associate Professor in the Department of Planning, Public Policy and Management at the UO. Doppelt's field of expertise is systems dynamics and change.

Doppelt is a member of the State of Oregon Global Warming Commission Communication and Outreach Committee. He served on Oregon Governor Kulongoski's Climate Change Integration Group. Doppelt served on the Western Division of The President's Council on Sustainable Development and on the U.S. EPA National Advisory Council for Environmental Policy and Technology. He is a graduate of the International Program on the Management of Sustainability, Ziest, The Netherlands.

Doppelt is the author of the book The Power of Sustainable Thinking: How To Create A Positive Future For The Climate, The Planet, Your Organization and Your Life (Earthscan Publishing 2008). He is also the author of Leading Change Toward Sustainability: A Change-Management Guide for Business, Government and Civil Society (Greenleaf Publishing, 2003), deemed just six months after publication as 'one of the ten most important books on sustainability' by a GlobeScan survey of international sustainability experts. He is a regular columnist on global warming for the Eugene Register Guard, the Salem Statesman Journal and Sustainable Industries Magazine.