As you make plans to attend the annual conference please also consider approaching your organization for support. There are a number of ways to do so including, support for student scholarships, conference advertisements, conference events, etc. Reference the information included in your conference mailer or on our website: www.ceiainc.org/conference .

Also please consider referring the contact information of one or two of your most supportive Employers to us so that CEIA may approach that organization for CEIA support. CEIA needs your assistance!

Upcoming Events

- WACE Assessment Institute which will take place March 18-20, 2013 in Miami, Florida.

This first of its kind program is designed to address the topics and issues connected to assessment of cooperative education, internship and service learning programs. The 2 and 1/2 day program will help participants create a strategy of how to move forward an existing assessment plan or to build a plan for assessment. The Institute is open to program managers, faculty, program practitioners and all others interested in assessment of experiential education programs. For information about the program please go to the WACE website for the details about the program, registration and hotel information. Click Here for Details

- 2013 Southeastern Regional Cooperative Education Conference in Atlanta, Georgia.

The Georgia Institute of Technology will host the 2013 edition of SERCEC in the midst of the Centennial Celebration of their co-op program. Pre-conference activities will be held all over Atlanta, recently named the “most fun city in America,” in its many unique neighborhoods and districts including Little Five Points, The Virginia Highlands, Atlantic Station, and Midtown. Various tours of city icons will be available including Centennial Olympic Park, The World of Coca-Cola, and The Georgia Aquarium (largest in the world). The Georgia Tech Division of Professional Practice will be the primary on-campus organizer of the event. More details can be found at Click Here for Details
