Experience Magazine is Now Live!

CEIA is pleased to announce that Experience Magazine: Practice and Theory is now available on the website. We wish to thank Senior Editor Michael Sharp of University of Cincinnati for his incredible leadership on the project. We also thank the many contributors and the Editorial Team, including Kathy Jordan, Sheva Guy, Kate Darcy Hohenthal, John Hausmann, Cheryl Cates, Richard Robles, and Lisa Barlow.

The recent edition features academic and practitioner submissions that cover best practices highlight, field trends, how-to articles, and relevant information for scholars and practitioners in the field of experiential learning.

A preview page is available for the general public in the Knowledge Zone of the CEIA website.

The full magazine and articles are available in the Member Area of the CEIA website. Please take a look at this incredible resource for CEIA members.

CEIA Academy Training

We are pleased to announce the dates for CEIA's Academy Training, to be held June 21-23, 2017. Newcomers to the field with three or less years of experience are invited to attend this intensive training program. Workshops will focus on building new leaders in the field of cooperative education. The Academy is held in a wonderful setting at the Vail Manor Lodge in Vail, CO. Please visit our website for registration information and program agenda.

CEIA Annual Conference Guidebook App

With less than 12 days until the start of the conference, now is the perfect time to begin thinking about your conference experience. We've meticulously created the CEIA Guidebook app with all of the details regarding sessions, planned activities, and local information. The app is very user-friendly and allows you to add items to a personalized schedule for each day of the conference. Get the Guidebook app here: <https://guidebook.com/g/ceia2017denver>

Student Award Fund

At the upcoming conference in Denver, CEIA will honor three students selected to receive the Student Achievement Awards. Pictured above are the outstanding students that were recognized at last year's conference in Dallas. Over the years, we have found that some students are unable to attend the award ceremony due to limited personal finances. With the generous support of members, CEIA established a fund to assist students with expenses related to travel.

If you would like to contribute, please visit CEIA Student Fund. Any support that you can provide this year, regardless of the amount, will again be appreciated and used to help our students. Your gift will be acknowledged at the conference on the list of Student Fund contributors.
