

News Brief - January 2023

Conference Update

The 60th Annual CEIA Conference is coming up April 2-4, 2023, in beautiful San Diego, California, and many are already registering for this exciting event. Join us as we celebrate 60 years of CEIA.

This year's theme is Coast to Coast: Empowering Student Success for 60 years. We can all relate to this as we look back on the last 60 years and toward the future. The annual conference attracts more than 350 attendees each year and provides members an opportunity to celebrate, learn and share best practices through an award banquet, breakout sessions, exhibitors, and networking receptions.

Early Bird Registration Ends January 31

As a reminder, Early Bird Registration closes on Tuesday, January 31 at 11:59 PM. After January 31, the conference registration rate increases from $595 to $655. The non-member rate will increase from $795 to $855.

Paying Unpaid Interns

Friday, January 20, 1:00 – 2:00 PM (Eastern)

How can we support students who are drawn to fields that typically offer unpaid internships? Many students simply cannot afford to take an unpaid internship, no matter how good the learning opportunity is. During this session, you'll have a chance to hear from two people who manage university programs offering pay for unpaid internships. Then, we'll break into discussion groups to learn from each other. If you've had success in this area, we want to hear from you! If you would like to start or grow such a program, come hear what your colleagues are doing so we can help even more students.

Free for CEIA Members / Non-Members $25.00

Registration will close end of day, January 19, 2023.

Global WIL Opportunities through WACE

Industry and Community Engagement for WIL

April 17 - 12 June 2023

This online module provides practitioners from across the globe the opportunity to further their understanding of the fundamental importance of industry/community engagement for WIL and to improve strategies to enhance this engagement. The full spectrum of the relationship with industry/community members: prospecting, recruiting, and retaining them, supporting them as educators, and finally, building on these relationships for more strategic purposes will be covered. Participants will explore strategies for industry and community engagement from a global perspective. More information go to <https://globalwil.org/april-june-2023-module/>

Note: This module forms part of the WACE Global WIL Modules Certificate of Completion which is awarded to participants who complete the 5 modules and a Global WIL Capstone Module.

Co-op/Internship Program Spotlight

Endicott College

Endicott College's four-year internship program sets students up with a well-rounded resume, a degree, and a clear pathway to a future in a vast number of thriving and trending industries. Students leave Endicott with an excellent educational foundation and substantial career experience but more so, professionalism and preparation that will resonate with employers. In fact, more than 99 percent of our graduates report being employed or attending graduate school within one year of graduation.

Take a moment to explore why Endicott has been ranked #9 on the U.S. News & World Report's most recent listing of colleges that encourage students to apply what they're learning in the classroom out in the real world through either closely supervised internships or practicums or through cooperative education, in which a period of study typically alternates with one of work.
